

Scholarship Information and Application

Scholarship Awards: The California Collegiate Volleyball Conference (CCVC) is offering scholarship awards for the 2017 season. Scholarship recipients will be announced before the league championships. Completed applications are due by 5 p.m. on March 1, 2017. Late applications will not be considered. The amount of an award will be announced with the presentation to the award recipient.

Purpose: The CCVC seeks to extend playing opportunities to student-athletes to assist them in their pursuit of both scholastic and athletic success. The CCVC is committed to providing scholarship awards that make it financially possible for players to participate in collegiate club volleyball in California.

Criteria: All student-athletes are eligible for assistance if they are participating on a collegiate club volleyball team in California, and that team is in good standing with the CCVC. Extra consideration will be given to athletes who: (1) have played for at least one season with their collegiate club team; (2) excel in leadership and sportsmanlike conduct; (3) demonstrate financial need; and (4) have a strong community service record. Consideration also will be given to segments of the California population traditionally denied playing opportunities based on gender, ethnicity, and economic condition.
